TOWN PEOPLE FEARING COMET

Many Gettysburg People in Actual Dread of Results of the Comet's Visit. One Man Says Servants Won't Work.

Superstitious folk in Gettysburg are greatly exercised over the presence of the comet and dire things are predicted by some of them. The fears of these unhappy beings, while amusing to others, are not so funny to those who are living in the same house with the fearful. A gentleman said this morning,

"I wish this comet business were over. We have two maids at our house and they are so excited over the thing that they do almost no work. They are afraid that their end is near at hand and are very timorous whenever a thought about the unusual visitor enters their heads."

An agent for a local grocery store while out taking orders Tuesday morning was turned away empty handed at a number of houses, people saying in all earnestness "Why, the world's coming to an end Wednesday night. What's the use buying things."

One young lady has been spending most of her time for the past few days praying and others are similar agitated.

Reports coming from other towns and cities seemed too foolish to believe until people here in Gettysburg began to exhibit signs of fear. While most of them, fearing ridicule have been expressing themselves rather quietly, others have been very outspoken and they are in constant dread for fear a part or all of the heavenly visitor may strike the earth.

The talk about the comet's tail sweeping the earth seems to be especially terrifying to some of them and the thing has become almost a mania with a score or more of Gettysburg's residents.

THE JUDGE AND THE SQUIRE

An interesting conversation was overheard Tuesday morning in reference to the comet between Judge Swope and Squire Hammers.

The Judge had just entered eastern Chambersburg street on one of his usual morning walks when he was passed by the Squire who was driving.

The Squire said "Well, Judge, we are going to pass through the tail of the comet tomorrow night—dead sure."

The Judge remarked, "Well, suppose we are, this earth has passed through many more trying conditions than that and has come out all right."

The Squire said "Do you think so?" The Judge remarked "Why, certainly. Last night's frost though it did us but little harm, is hurting us much more than the comet will." The Judge then said, "Why Squire, you are not afraid of the comet are you?"

The Squire then answered, "No, not by any means—not even the York Springs Comet." He then touched up his horse and laughing drove toward his big store in Highland, while the Judge also laughing continued his walk.

A Jadin is in charge of the arrangements of the Engineers. The camp streets are being laid out together with all of the places for the various headquarters. A stake is being driven on the site of each tent and the work of the Engineers is by no means light.

At the end of York street where the water mains are to be tapped a small reservoir 10 x 10 x 5 will be built of concrete and from this the water supply for the camp will be pumped to a large tank on the hill, having a capacity of 100,000 gallons. The work of laying the pipes has commenced as has also the work on the foundation for the large tank on the top of the hill. Allen B. Plank has this contract.

A temporary automobile garage has been built and at least one hundred bath houses and other buildings will be put up in the next week so that the place will present the appearance of a small village.

RECOVERED THE STOLEN MULES

Animals Taken from Stable of Mr. Kendig of Near Littlestown Recovered Near Emmitsburg where they were Found.

The mules taken from the stable of Albert Kendig near Littlestown on Monday night were found on Tuesday wandering along the road near Emmitsburg, the party who took them evidently fearing arrest if he kept on with the stolen animals.

When found the mules were still wearing their bridles and the miscreant had evidently started to make way with them for distant parts when he lost courage.

Detective Wilson had taken energetic steps to secure the return of the stolen animals when word reached here that they had been found. All the surrounding towns and country districts had been notified and the thief would have a hard time getting away without being caught.

The mules were taken from Mr. Kendig's stable Monday night while he was in Hanover attending the Haag circus. There is no clue to the guilty party.

Wanted Only Hustlers.

Stetson, the once well known theatrical manager, more famous if possible for the "breaks" he made than for his many successes, attending the rehearsal of one of his plays, noticed that a man in the orchestra who had to play the trombone was holding the instrument in front of him and doing nothing.

Mr. Stetson at once called him to account.

"Say," said he, "what do you mean by not working along with the other fellows?"

"Why, Mr. Stetson," said the musician, "I can't play. I have nineteen bars rest."

"Not on your life!" replied the angry manager. "I don't pay any one for resting. Either you play when the other fellows do or you clear out, see!"

Up to Date "Santa Fe Trail"

According to a prominent Kansas City newspaper, a modern highway 275 miles long through the "short grass country" in western Kansas would not only prove an illuminating object lesson for the entire state, but for all the country as well. The people of western Kansas have started a movement to afford the world just that object lesson in road building. From Newton to the Colorado line it is proposed to construct a continuous boulevard along the Arkansas river and call it "the New Santa Fe trail."

Auto Fees to Mend Roads.

Bergen county, N. J., has received $37,920 from the auto fees paid into the state fund, and to a well known construction company of Hackensack, N. J., were awarded four contracts amounting to that sum for work to be done on roads much traveled by New York motorists. The board of freeholders at a recent meeting voted to establish a road system that will cost about $600,000 and insure excellent roads in the district close to New York.

Rural Delivery and Good Roads.

The intimate relation which exists between good country roads and rural free delivery of mail cannot be too strongly emphasized. Communities which would enjoy the latter must make and maintain the former. In many instances bad roads have prevented the extension of rural free delivery to communities where it was greatly desired.

LOST CHILD FOUND

Six-Year-Old Girl Lived Two Days In Mountains on Berries.
Wilkes-Barre, Pa., May 18.—After being lost in the mountains near Nanticoke, seven miles from here, since Sunday afternoon, six-year-old Ida Gillis, daughter of former Councilman George W. Gillis of Nanticoke, was found by George Worth, one of the scores of searchers who have been in the woods since Sunday evening looking for the child.

She had wandered several miles from the place where she was lost along the ridge of the mountain. She was hungry and thirsty, sleepy and badly frightened. She had lived on wintergreen leaves and berries and had only a little water to drink while at night and often during the day she had fallen asleep under bushes when she was too tired to go further, and upon waking up again had made an effort to find her way out of the woods. Troops of the state constabulary aided in the search.

MAY BOMBARD BLUEFIELDS

Nicaraguan Government Warships Will Fire on Town Unless It Surrenders.
Washington, May 18.—The state department received a cablegram from Commander Gilmer of the United States ship Paducah, from Bluefields, announcing that the Nicaraguan government steamer Venus, flying the Nicaraguan flag, arrived there May 16. He adds that the commander of Bluefields demanded the surrender of Bluefields and that if the demand is not complied with he will give twenty-four hours notice of the intended bombardment of the place.

BAT NELSON SPARS WITH UNCLE JOE

Speaker and Pugilist Meet at the Capitol.

Washington, May 18.—Batting Nelson, eight-weight champion of the world, and Uncle Joe Cannon, who is something of a scrapper himself, sparred a round in the speaker's private office. It wasn't such a tame go at that, although largely conversational.

Nelson and his manager appeared before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce to oppose the bill introduced by Representative Walter I. Smith, of Iowa, to prohibit the exhibition of moving pictures of prize fights and the publication by the newspapers of the details of pugilistic encounters. After Nelson had spoken his piece he left the committee room and was hurrying down the corridor toward the exit, when Representative Wagner, of Pennsylvania, came chasing after him.

"Hey, Nelson," he cried, "the speaker wants to see you."

"You're on," said Nelson, and he made tracks for the speaker's office. He got a warm greeting. Uncle Joe shook his hands, felt his biceps and slapped him on the back. The examination was returned with interest.

"Say," said Nelson to Mr. Cannon, as he ran his hands over the speaker's arms and shoulders and sized up his height, "I thought you were a big man, but you're only a little one."

Uncle Joe grinned and put up his hands in approval. "Philadelphia Jack O'Brien showed me how to do this," he said. And he made a few passes at Nelson, who backed away laughingly.

"If you had begun boxing a few years ago, Mr. Cannon," said Nelson, "you would have made a better boxer than a speaker—and you certainly are some speaker."

"Why," cried Uncle Joe, "that is what I call a mighty pretty compliment."

It turned out during Nelson's visit with the speaker that he is a citizen of Hegewisch, Ill., a constituent of Representative James R. Mann.

CALL NEW COMET LEHIGH

Body Discovered by Bay State Minister Named After University.

South Bethlehem, Pa., May 18.—A planet recently discovered by Rev. Joel Metcalf, of Taunton, Mass., has been named "Lehigh" after Lehigh University. Rev. Mr. Metcalf discovered the planet by photography in December, 1909.

Its position was photographed at four dates prior to February 1910. Three positions were sent to Professor John O. Gurn, and under his direction Instructor Reynolds worked up the elements of the orbit of the newly discovered body.

The new planet "Lehigh" is 125 magnitude at opposition that is where the earth is nearest to it. It is probably not more than twenty-five or thirty miles in diameter.

Married Three Weeks: Cut His Throat.
Montclair, N. J., May 18.—Bartley Giblin, twenty-eight years of age, a brother of John Giblin cut his throat in the cellar of his brother's residence. The suicide was married three weeks ago to Miss Morlarity, of Montclair. The couple were living happily together and friends cannot assign any cause for the act except insanity.

N. Y. P. & N. Raises Wages.
Norfolk, Va., May 18.—The train men, engineers, firemen and conductors on the New York, Philadelphia & Norfolk railroad have been granted a substantial increase in pay over and above the recent raise in wages of 6 per cent.

A strong German who was coming over to America had the misfortune to fall overboard, but the alarm was given instantly, and after a very exciting experience he was rescued. That evening he appeared on deck, not much the worse for his mishap, and was surrounded by a number of passengers, who evinced a great interest in him.

"Oh, tell me," gushed a wide-eyed young woman, "how did you feel when you had fallen and the ship had gone on and you were left alone in the ocean?"

The German looked at her calmly. "Wet," he answered.

THIRTY KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Seven Boilers Blow Up at Tin Plate Plant.

MEN BLOWN TO PIECES

Arms, Legs and Parts of Bodies Were Strewn About the Neighborhood and a Body Was Hurled Through House.

Canton, O., May 18.—Scores were killed and injured in a boiler explosion at the plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company on South Harrison avenue Howard Rex, assistant superintendent, said that twenty-five or thirty men were dead. Over 100 men were in the mill at the time of the explosion and it is not believed that more than a dozen escaped injury. A large number of the men are fatally injured.

Seven boilers of 1200-horsepower each exploded simultaneously in an L-shaped addition near the middle of the main mill. All employees connected with that department were blown to atoms.

The injured were hurried to the hospitals in ambulances or automobiles. The dead bodies, strewn where they were thrown by the force of the explosion presented a ghastly spectacle. Many are thought to be buried in the debris, which caught fire immediately after the explosion. The fire department was called to put out the flames.

Body Hurled Through House.

A body was thrown by the force of the explosion through the side of the home of Henry Ruke, a square and a half away from the wrecked plant. The body passed through the house and came out on the other side. It landed on a fence and knocked it over.

Another body was picked up at the plant of the Timken Roller Bearing Axle company, a half mile away from the scene of the explosion. A human hand crashed through the window of the office, seventy-five feet away.

The torso of a man was found in the garden of a yard about 500 feet west of the scene. Arms, legs and parts of bodies were strewn about the neighborhood.

The bodies of seven men, mutilated beyond recognition, were found in the north end of the mill.

"For God's sake hit me on the head and kill me!" cried one workman to a man who found him. The injured man had an arm torn off and a great hole in his side.

The cause of the explosion is unknown. The boilers were supposed to be in good shape. The men had no warning. The members of the office force escaped injury.

Women and children whose hands and fathers are among the dead or injured gathered about the wrecked plant, weeping and wringing their hands.

The whole of the plant is blown out by the explosion. Windows are broken in all houses within a radius of a quarter of a mile. The whole section in the vicinity of the plant is strewn with debris from the mill.

Louis Hughes, a fireman, and A. W. Kaufman, a storekeeper, were standing in the storehouse, 300 feet away from the main plant at the time of the explosion. The storehouse was demolished, but both men escaped death. Kaufman had only a few cuts and bruises, while Hughes sustained a broken leg.

CLARA MORRIS NEARLY BLIND

Veteran Actress' Health as Well as Her Sight Failing.

New York, May 18.—Clara Morris, the famous actress of a generation ago, is said to be threatened with blindness at her home in Yonkers.

Some time ago her sight began to fail her, and for the past week she is reported to have been almost totally blind.

Coincident with the failure of her sight, she experienced a general breakdown and her condition is now serious. Two doctors are in daily attendance.

U. S. FOOD TEST IS "TORTURE"

Measuring Heat Generated as Meal Digests.

Washington, May 18.—To determine whether roast beef produces more energy in the human body than cabbage, whether baked beans, in this respect, surpass potatoes, and so on through a long list of foods, the department of agriculture is conducting a series of novel experiments.

The instrumentality being employed is a machine known as a calorimeter and a human being who submits to the "torture" of being fed and sitting in a glass cage, while the food energy is recorded.

Around the inside of the calorimeter, which is a glass, air-tight compartment about the size of a small steam or stateroom, runs a system of pipes filled with cold water. The temperature of the water is carefully noted, the heat generated by the body in the process of assimilating the food causing the water to become warmer. Only one kind of food is given to the subject at a time. One experiment requires several hours or sometimes longer, according to the time required for the food to digest.

The experiments so far have been to determine the relative heat-producing energy of fatty and starchy foods. Several months will be spent in making the tests.

DEER INVADERS UTICA

Ran Across the City and Hid In Dense Woods In Outskirts.

Utica, N. Y., May 18.—A magnificent specimen of a buck deer, evidently driven many miles from its haunts in the Adirondacks by dogs, sped across this city and buried itself in the dense woods in Roscoe Conkling park on the southern outskirts of the town. Not a hand was raised to stay the progress of the animal as it bounded across highways and lawns and sought shelter in the park though a few dogs at various stages of the flight made vain attempts to overtake it.

To Erect Carnegie Statue.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 18.—Former partners of Andrew Carnegie including Charles L. Taylor, Charles M. Schwab, William E. Corey, Alex. R. Peacock, Judge J. M. Reed have decided to erect a statue of Andrew Carnegie almost twice life size and to cost $60,000.

Nasal Catarrh

Henry L. Britton Says it is Easy to Get Rid of.

"My head, nose and glands leading to my eyes and nose were stopped up and swollen, I tried several so-called catarrh cures, but Hyomei, used thoroughly did the curing. There is nothing too good to say in favor of Hyomei. It cured my nasal catarrh."—Henry L. Britton, Frost St., Eaton Rapids, Mich.

Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mee) cures catarrh, because it gets where the germs are, and destroys them. It is made of Australian eucalyptus, mixed with other healing antiseptics. When breathed over the irritated and inflamed membrane, it gives relief in two minutes.

Used regularly for a few weeks it will build up and heal the germ infested membrane and drive out catarrh.

■ If you own a small Hyomei pocket inhaler, you can get a bottle of Hyomei at druggists everywhere, or at The People's Drug Store for only 50 cents. If you do not own a Hyomei inhaler, ask for a complete outfit, the price is $1.00. It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, coughs, colds, croup or sore throat or money back.

HER TALL REBEL.

By MARIA D. FUREY.
[Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.]

On Holborn street in London is a row of buildings that any sightseer passing on top of a motor bus would recognize at once as having been left among modern buildings from a past age. It is called the Staple Inn, and here Dr. Johnson wrote his "Idler."

One morning after the battle of Cul-loden, which ended the rebellion in Scotland led by the pretender, three Scotchmen who had been captured in arms against the king were being conducted past the Staple Inn to the Tower. A block stopped the sad cortege. One of the prisoners, MacDougal, was a very tall man, overlooking his fellows, and withal singularly handsome. A lady looking from the window of the inn called out to him:

"You tall rebel, you will soon be shorter by a head."

MacDougal turned a pair of large, sad eyes upon her and asked deferentially:

"Does that give you pleasure, madam?"

"It does."

"Then, madam"—taking off his hat and making a low bow—"I do not die in vain."

The way having been cleared, the procession passed on, and the lady withdrew from the window.

MacDougal, soon after arriving at the Tower, was about to be led out to execution when the lieutenant received an order for a stay. Several days passed, the prisoner expecting death all the while, when the door of his cell was opened, and the lady who had spoken to him from Staple Inn entered. He looked at her in astonishment.

"We have met before," said the lady.

"I remember you well, madam. But I am at a loss as to the cause of this visit, for I shall soon be headless, and a headless man cannot serve a lady."

"Nevertheless your height will be improved."

"And would you prefer me shortened?"

"I would. You are too tall."

"You seem interested in cutting me down."

"I am interested in you."

"As Herodias was interested in John the Baptist?"

"Your head, I admit, has recently seriously concerned me."

"I regret that I have not the power to give it to you. I can leave it to you by will, but I do not think the courts would regard the bequest of a rebel."

"Doubtless there is some fair maid who would prize your head."

"If its possession would give you pleasure you would be welcome to it, too, could I bestow it upon you."

"I would not deprive another of a coveted possession."

"There is none other who would prize it. But pray tell me to what may I attribute the honor of this visit?"

"A desire to see more of so good mannered a gentleman."

"I rejoice that my manners please you, madam, and regret that my height does not."

"But you will be shortened."

"My life will not be lengthened."

"You will not die in vain."

"True; I shall have the consolation of giving you pleasure."

"Say, rather, the pleasure of giving me pleasure. My pleasure is yours, is it not?"

"Will you not show your appreciation of my devotion by leaving me to prepare for an end which may come at any moment?"

"Is my presence obnoxious to you?"

"At any other time it would be a pleasure to me."

"But you wish to be alone."

"Only on account of the nearness of death."

"Will nothing ruffle your politeness?"

"Nothing will affect my appreciation for so charming a woman."

"Why did you rebel against King George?"

"I believed Scotland would be benefited by Charles Edward."

"The king is a good man."

"Doubtless."

She handed him a slip of paper. He ran his eye over it. It read:

Let Lady — have access to her tall rebel, and be hanged to her.

GEORGE R.

Something like a faint smile dawned upon the lips of the prisoner. "His majesty," he said, "is very good to me to permit you to visit me."

"He has been more kind to you than that."

Drawing a piece of parchment from her corsage, she handed it to him. It was a pardon, beautifully engrossed within a decorative border. MacDougal looked up at his visitor for a moment, then sprang toward her and flung his arms about her. Under cover of heartless banter she had been talking the language of love. He had not interpreted her correctly, but now he understood. She suffered—no, returned—the embrace.

"Why did you rejoice at my approaching death?" he asked.

"Because you were an enemy of the king."

"And what changed you?"

"Your manners."

"H'm! Rather a woman's weathercock nature. And you alone have saved me?"

"No; I have been assisted by the Earl of Southland and all the county of Ross."

The two passed out of the Tower together. History says nothing of the future of either, though they were real characters.

WILL WONDERS NEVER CEASE

He Was Almost Dead.

When the Root Juice people were here hundreds of people flocked to the drug store to see them and get some of the great remedy, and after they left the great sale of the remedy continued because of the many remarkable cures it made. Many names of people living in this locality who were cured by taking a few bottles of Root Juice were published in this paper. The remedy is such a health promoting agent that it creates great excitement in every city in which it is introduced. Mr. Albert Timlick, of Cantrell, Ill., wrote and said: "For a number of years I suffered with a severe stomach trouble and tried many kinds of medicine but none did me any good. I was almost dead when I started on my first bottle of Root Juice, but as soon as I took three or four doses I began to feel better. Four bottles of the Juice made a complete cure of my troubles. I now have a good appetite and can eat anything I want. Before I took Root Juice I could not digest the lightest food. It would sour on my stomach and I would bloat fearfully. I digest everything I eat now. It has certainly worked wonders for me." Root Juice is a great healing tonic to the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys. It is sold for $1 a bottle. Three bottles for $2.50 at the People's drug store.

The dairyman who is wide awake and keeping up with the procession has already eliminated the loafers from his herd of cows by means of the Babcock tester, while those run down with disease he has got rid of by applying the tuberculin test. On the other hand, there are scads of fellows, dairymen, so called, who are still shinning along in the same old slipshod manner, not knowing and seemingly not caring whether their cows are paying their way or not. Little short of an earthquake would wake them up, and it is questionable if they were aroused if they would have gumption enough to take advantage of the opportunity.

A Holstein cow, Princess Carletta, owned by the Missouri experiment station, gave last year 18,405 pounds of milk, which, with the 618 pounds of butter fat made therefrom, contained more human food than is represented by the complete carcasses of four steers weighing 1,250 each. The quantity of milk in question contained a total of 2,218 pounds of dry matter, as follows: Protein, 552 pounds; fat, 618 pounds; sugar, 920 pounds; ash, 128 pounds. As the carcass of a 1,250 pound steer is 56 per cent water, each would represent 548 pounds of dry matter. In view of such a milk yield as this, one can readily appreciate that a cow is, in fact, a machine, highly organized and sensitive, and that her ration, both as to composition and quantity, is a most important matter.

Now and then one unwittingly of necessity moves into a house that is already inhabited with the notorious bedbug, the bane and object of loathing of every cleanly housewife. A friend who was confronted with just such a situation as this resorted to the sulphur method, which consisted of sprinkling about three pounds of sulphur on half an iron kettle of live hardwood coals. It did the business. The sulphur fumes penetrated everywhere, coming out of the cellar windows and through the cracks in the shingles, where dead bugs were found by the dozen when roof repairs were made later. It is well to set the kettle of coals in a shallow box of earth or on an old piece of sheet iron or zinc to prevent things catching fire in case the sulphur boils over. To make the smudge most effective all the interior doors should be open, and all windows and outside doors should be closed.

Weekly the wires are bringing the news of a new gusher being struck. Hundreds are being made rich over night. Oil is truly proving California's greatest money-maker, HAVE YOU THOUGHT ABOUT OIL AS A SAFE AND EXTREMELY PROFITABLE INVESTMENT? There is big money in oil. The millions made by the Standard and by capitalists in our own state are matters of general knowledge. California is recognized as the best field for oil operations, oil discoveries and oil production today. The money coming from this oil production is being distributed among hundreds of stockholders and is not all going into the pockets of a few men. Dividends exceeding FIFTY MILLION DOLLARS have been paid by oil operations in this state and the amount is going to steadily increase every day from now on.

Now, is there any reason why you shouldn't be one of the lucky ones? Wouldn't it be nice if you were to receive $500 dividend check every six months, and this check to be paid on an investment of two or three hundred dollars? This is being done regularly in California. Why are you not one of the lucky ones?
